

Flour Milling and Baking Research Pension and Assurance Scheme

Privacy notice – June 2026

Purpose of this notice

This privacy notice aims to give you information on how the personal data regarding your membership of the Scheme is collected and processed.

It is important that you read this privacy notice together with any other privacy notice we may provide on specific occasions when we are collecting or processing personal data about you, so that you are fully aware of how and why we are using your data. This privacy notice supplements the other notices and is not intended to override them.

We may update this privacy notice from time to time. We will provide you with a new privacy notice when we make any substantial updates.

Data Controller

Dalriada Trustees Limited are the current Trustee of the Flour Milling and Baking Research Pension and Assurance Scheme (the Scheme) and are a “data controller” of the personal information collected and used by the Scheme. This means they are responsible for deciding what personal data about you is required and how it should be protected.

In addition, the Scheme Actuary (John Fitzgerald FIA), and our Actuarial Advisers (First Actuarial) act as a joint data controller for the personal data that they use. This privacy notice also covers these joint data controllers.

What personal data do we hold and use?

We hold personal data on you to enable us to calculate and pay benefits to you or your dependants. The information will also be used, where necessary, for the financial management of the Scheme.

The information we hold on you includes:

- details of your employment history, including salary information
- personal information including name, maiden name, date of birth, National Insurance number and contact details
- records of any benefits you have transferred into the Scheme from other pension arrangements
- records of any additional contributions you or the employer, on your behalf, have paid into the Scheme
- information on benefits you will receive from the Scheme
- your bank account details (but only from the time we need to start paying benefits to you).

Why do we hold this information?

We hold this information because we have a legitimate interest in ensuring that you and/or your dependants get the benefits you are entitled to receive, to ensure that the Scheme is well run and has sufficient funds to pay the benefits promised.

We may also use it to comply with our legal obligations, for example to keep and maintain records about yet, to fulfil our obligations to HMRC and in calculating whether the Scheme has enough money to pay future benefits.

We may also hold and use more sensitive data (also known as “special categories of data”) such as health information collected when considering whether to pay any ill-health benefits.

We may need this sensitive data if it is necessary for us to pay ill-health benefits to you, or death benefits to the people you have nominated. If we use this data, it will be because you consent, at the time, to us holding and using this information. You may withdraw that consent at any time, in which case we will erase that sensitive data. However, if we consider that doing this will prevent us from paying the correct benefits to you or your dependants, we will let you know before proceeding.

The Scheme Actuary and First Actuarial also hold and use some of your personal data. The lawful reason they hold this data is because they have a legitimate interest in providing actuarial advice and valuations for us. For example, the Scheme Actuary carries out calculations to advise us if the Scheme has enough money to pay the future benefits promised to its members.

Automated Decision Making

We do not envisage that we will use any automated decision making.

Where did we get information about you?

The personal data we hold about you was given to us by:

- The employer, who provided us with data such as your salary information, part-time working details, and information on when you joined and left employment.
- You, for example, through the forms which you completed when you joined the Scheme. You (or your family members) may also have provided information subsequently when you contacted the Scheme to discuss your benefits, to tell us about a change of address or for other reasons.
- Previous pension schemes, where you transferred your benefits into the Scheme. This will include information such as your dates of service, contracted-out benefits (if applicable) and contributions.
- Your doctor, where we have used this person to obtain medical information if you have applied for ill-health retirement.
- Tracing agencies, where it was necessary to use the agency to contact you.
- Government agencies for data such as your tax code and any minimum level of benefits you are due.

Who do we share information with?

To run the Scheme, your personal information will be used by the Scheme Administrator (currently, First Actuarial) and our advisers, as necessary (including the Scheme Actuary (currently, John Fitzgerald), actuarial advisers (currently, First Actuarial), auditor (currently, Sumer Auditco Limited) and legal advisers (currently, Osborne Clarke)). We may also need to share your personal information with other parties such as annuity providers, firms providing death-in-service insurance services for the Scheme and tracing agencies (for example, if you move to a new house and don't tell us your new address). Where we do share information with these parties we remain in control of the data and we will ensure that suitable data protection agreements are in place.

We may transfer your data to separate third parties. These parties are:

- official organisations who we have a legal obligation to provide information to. This includes HMRC and The Pensions Regulator
- insurance companies, for example, if we buy an annuity on your behalf
- other pension schemes, if you ask us to transfer your benefits to a new scheme

- the Employer, or their advisers, to enable them to manage their financial commitment to the Scheme, to produce pension related accounting disclosures and to allow them to answer questions you may have about your benefits or to give you guidance on pension related matters.

We only share information about you where it is necessary for the running of the Scheme. We do not share information about you for any other reason.

How long do we keep your data?

We will keep information about you for the lifetime of the Scheme. Should we change the administrators or advisers who help us to run the Scheme, we will ensure the previous providers pass your personal data onto the new ones and erase any other copies of your personal information after a suitable period.

The Scheme Actuary and the actuarial advisers also keep a copy of the information. Should we change our Scheme Actuary or actuarial advisers, the existing provider will keep a copy of the data for a maximum of seven years.

Your rights

You may ask for a copy of the information we hold on you. You may make this request by contacting us. If, at any point, you believe the information we hold on you is wrong, you can ask us to correct it.

In some circumstances, you may also have a right to ask us to restrict the processing of your personal data, to object to processing or to transfer or erase your personal data. You can obtain further information about these rights from the Information Commissioner's Office at: www.ico.org.uk or via their telephone helpline (0303 123 1113).

We hope that we can resolve any query or concern you raise about our use of your information. If you have concerns about how your personal data is being used, you may raise a complaint with the Trustees via the Trustee Internal Dispute Resolution Procedure. You can obtain a copy of this by writing to the Scheme Trustees at FMBRA@dalriadatrustees.co.uk. We will acknowledge your complaint within 30 days and respond without undue delay.

You also have the right to complain to the Information Commissioner. The Information Commissioner may be contacted at www.ico.org.uk/concerns/ or telephone: 0303 123 1113.

Keep us informed

It is important that the information we hold about you is accurate and current. Please keep us informed if your personal information changes during your membership of the Scheme so that we can continue to pay you benefits when due, and contact you about your membership of the Scheme. In particular, please let us know if you move home, so that we can stay in touch with you.
